News from St. Nicholas Church

The Concert at Chilston Park was a most enjoyable evening and we are most grateful to Doreen Hulm, Beverley and Gemma Hone for giving us such a varied and amusing programme, quite an achievement to have three generations of the same family to entertain us; thank you so much to you all.

Morning Prayers will be said in St. Nicholas on the 1st, 2nd and 5th Tuesdays in June and the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays at All Saints Ulcombe at 9.30a.m.

Bible Study will re-convene on 4th June at Weirton Villas, Grafty Green at 10.30 a.m. You are all welcome to come and join us.

Village Coffee Morning in the Village Hall will be on the second Wednesday of the month which is the 10th at 10.30a.m.

Men's Breakfast at the Dog and Bear Lenham will be on 27th June at 8.00a.m. when a full English breakfast will be served at a cost of £8.50. To reserve your place ring Dick Venn on 01622 858195, there will be a speaker as usual.

Adam Hart and Kelly Downes of St. Stephen's Chatham will marry at St. Nicholas Church on 20th June. We wish them both a very happy day and a long life together. Adam is Rev: Millie Hart's son so it will be a very extra special day for her too.

The Church will be running a stall at the Grafty Green traditional Fete and there will be other stalls manned by members of the congregation. Lets pray for a dry day and for the sun to shine and may it be a successful and enjoyable day for everyone.

VILLAGE HALL NEWS

www.graftygreenvillagehall.co.uk

At our AGM last month Barbara Pearce tendered her resignation from the management committee and so, as we were already one person short of our full complement, there became two places to be filled on the committee for the year ahead. Happily, Jon and Angela Thompson volunteered their services and have brought us up to full strength again. So the committee now comprises myself, Carol Hulm (Secretary), Robert Turner (Treasurer), Sue Burch, Sarah Cutbill, Stefania Graziola, Margaret Neaves, Barbara Pearce, Sandra Pilborough, Jacky Simmons, Jacqui Thompson and Jon & Angela Thompson.

Jon and Angela quite recently moved into the bungalow beside the field where our outdoor events are customarily held and have readily agreed that we can tap into their water and electricity supply for our fete on June 6th. We thank them hugely. Clearly they are going to be a great asset to the village!

At the AGM I presented my report for the year just past. Here's a brief summary:

The regular hirers of the Hall continue to be Headcorn Morris, the Gardening Club, The "Dazzle" drama group for children, Sue Burch's Yoga class, the Bowls Club, the Parish Council and the Church. We have also succeeded in attracting more occasional hirers than in previous years, which has increased our letting income a little.

The main social events we organised were a treasure hunt & barbeque; our traditional Christmas quiz and, most recently, a Greek meal with Greek dancing and belly-dancing. The Committee also assisted again with the running of the Harvest Supper. These events, plus a 'Phil The Bag' fund-raiser and a generous donation from the organiser of the Christmas Craft Fair, have helped us maintain a financial surplus.

However, the decision (taken last year) to remove the coin-operated electricity meters is having a more detrimental effect on our finances than we expected, because the free availability of heating has led to hirers using more. So we are not only losing meter income but also incurring greater usage charges - and the early signs are that last year's increase in letting fees will not bridge the gap, as it was intended to. Consequently, an increase in the rate next year cannot be ruled out, I'm afraid.

This year, we continued to use what surplus funds we had to improve the Hall's facilities. We have installed a larder fridge in the kitchen and have also replaced the broken cooker with a larger new one. This has made catering in the Hall very much more practicable. Our secretary, Carol Hulm, has also developed a website for the Hall, which is now live.

And our next event? Well, the revival of the village fete, of course, on June 6th – of which much more elsewhere in this magazine!

Richard Pilborough, Hall Committee Chairman

Grafty Gourmet

This is a great Summer Dessert, and as usual, so simple to make.

White Chocolate & Strawberry Mouse Cake

175g digestive biscuits
75g butter, melted
400g white chocolate
400g strawberries

300g tub full-fat soft cheese
200ml double cream

1. Crush the biscuits with a rolling pin to fine crumbs, add the melted butter and mix well. Tip the mix into a 20cm lined, loose-bottomed cake tin, smooth with the back of a spoon and put in the fridge for 30 minutes.
2. Melt 375g of the chocolate in a microwave or glass bowl set over a pan of simmering water, then allow to cool slightly.
3. Take out 6 strawberries and set aside. Blitz the remaining strawberries in a food processor until smooth, then add them to a bowl with the soft cheese and cream. Beat until really smooth and thick, then stir in the melted white chocolate. Pour on top of the biscuit base and smooth the top. Place in the fridge and chill overnight.
4. Halve the reserved strawberries and place on top of the cheesecake. Melt the remaining 25g chocolate and drizzle over the top, then keep chilled until ready to serve.

WHAT IS DROPBOX?

It's an easy way to store and share photos, documents, spreadsheets, and other types of computer files, using a PC, tablet or mobile device.

Dropbox works by keeping identical copies of selected files on your computer(s) and Dropbox's cloud-based storage system, and automatically synchronizing them over an encrypted Internet connection.

Examples of how Dropbox can be used:

- To share a folder full of documents with co-workers, so they can work on spreadsheets and other documents together.
- Back-up photos taken on iPhones, without using cables. Once the Dropbox app is installed on the phone, the photos and movies taken with the phone are automatically transferred to Dropbox's Camera Uploads folder, which can be accessed immediately on a laptop or any other PC or device that has Dropbox installed.
- Instantly back-up files that you are working on in Dropbox. If your computer crashes, they can be easily recovered.

Besides automatic syncing, another advantage of Dropbox is it follows the same conventions that people already use to save files, create folders, and move stuff around on their computers. This means your Dropbox data will always appear in the familiar "My Computer" (Windows) or Finder (Mac) on your computer.

Dropbox is a great collaboration tool. It's easy to share links to folders or files, or give permission to other people to modify files. For more information and to download the application, go to: <https://www.dropbox.com/>

Lenham Valley Business Association

Business Networking is about . . . getting the best advice!

If you are in business there is nothing worse than having to find out about something and not been able to get an answer from an experienced, professional person you can trust. You need someone who's been there, done it, knows the pitfalls and, more importantly, how to avoid them. In the main much of the LVBA membership is made up of people just like that. Professional business people who are willing to share what they know and don't always expect you to pay for it. It is part of local business, people want to be helpful and provide answers to help and assist you. We try to select speakers who are even more than that and will present to a group, not to try to sell them something but to inform the audience. Provide knowledge and experience.

See our new networking webpage for the 2015 programme. There's no meeting in June.

The History of Ulcombe

In 2004 we produced Ulcombe's Story: a Millennium History of our village. It was written by a group of villagers who came together in 2001 and each agreed to research and write a specific chapter about the village. The book was edited by Philip Every and Molly Poulter.

Thanks to grants from charitable trusts and generous donations from many subscribers, we were able to give every household in the village a free copy. Such has been the popularity of the History, we have had it re-printed twice. We now have to charge for copies and the cost is £18.

Those new to the village might like to have a copy. They are available from Molly Poulter on 01622 842988.

Christian Message June 2015

Pool's paradise

"Ouch!" The straps of my swimming costume, twanged against my back.

"It's O.K. dear. You were all caught up. Just trying to help."

Forcing back an Anglo-Saxon reaction, I managed a faint smile and made a dash for the pool.

Thora - we'll call her Thora because she reminded me of various characters from 'Talking Heads' - walked out to the pool and started barking at her friends: "It's no use coming tumurra Frank. Tumurra is a Bank Holiday and 'B' members can't use the pool when the hotel is busy."

"That's not what we was told. We was told we was welcome."

Thora repeated her theory as if this would give it more credence, then made a dash for the hotel reception. Peace at last?

No.

Frank started thrashing past at a furious pace with his arms flailing in a front crawl. All too quickly Thora returned. Hands on hips, feet apart, swaying back and forth with an air of authority:

"No Frank, I'm right, we're not welcome tumurra. Hotel guests only on Bank Holidays. 'B' members excluded."

"Thank goodness for that" I felt my mouth saying to my brain. If my mouth uttered anything so uncharitable, my brain ensured it was done silently.

Thora shared her jewel of information with every 'B' member who turned up after her, and, as if dissatisfied that the strap-twanging had not had enough of an effect, followed me back into the changing room. "Filthy wet floor" she exploded, picked up a mop and sent a shower of water straight towards the skirt I was stepping into.

"Roll on the Bank Holiday" Mouth muttered to Brain. I do hope Brain kept the volume down.

The next morning Oliver was holding court. If his belly flops into the pool were not Olympian, his voice certainly was. Oliver did not ask for, he demanded attention.

"Bring back the 'B' team" I heard Mouth say to Brain. For 15 minutes Mummy Oliver yelled at and cajoled her boy, then gave up and left. Dad took over with about as much effect as Mummy.

I tried to carry on practicing my breast stroke and was soon lost in my own world as a secret agent trying to board a ship, so having to swim as silently as possible towards the hull by nightfall. Oliver might be nine but he didn't have the monopoly on silly games and I've watched far too many James Bond films.

My mind wandered further and I started to think about Thora, Frank and Oliver.

"Love your neighbours" Brain said to mouth. "Stop scowling and love your neighbours."

"Trust you to start coming over all reasonable" muttered Mouth.

"It's Good Friday" explained Brain. "Remember what that means. On Good Friday we remember Christ giving up his life for you, Thora, Frank and Oliver."

"Well yes, but Thora pinged my costume and invaded my social space."

"She was just being friendly."

"But she sluiced water towards my skirt."

"It didn't reach and she made the floor safe."

"But she yelled her head off,"

"and saved all her friends from a wasted journey."

"Oh alright, alright... but what about Frank splashing away? Front crawl is definitely a man thing. He was annoying."

"And you weren't annoying, doing widths when the 'B' members were all swimming lengths? Did any of them tell you off for getting in their way, even once, all week? No, not one."

"No, I suppose not... but what about Oliver, yelling, splashing and ignoring his parents?"

"Weren't you ever young? Oliver gave up his time willingly, playing with a much younger lad, Tim, and keeping him entertained."

"Oh alright, alright, you win. Love your neighbour, tolerate others and don't be grumpy about the little things."

"That's more like it. Jesus went to the cross and suffered a dreadful death in order that you could be saved and enjoy eternal life. Now, if you could just manage a little smile?"

"I would smile but then I'd get water in my mouth, gurgle and never get to the battleship in silence."

Brain sighed and left Mouth to make up its own mind.

God leaves us all to make up our own minds. As if crucifixion, resurrection and loving us unconditionally is not enough, we all have free will as well!

I pray that you love your neighbours, even the really annoying ones who swim widths and not lengths, and I thank the Lord that you are almost certainly, far more tolerant than me...
